DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This two and one half story frame house, with a gable roof and center gable, is similar to others on Locust Street. In this case the two chimneys are in the center of the house, rather than at the ends. The house is covered with German siding and has a wing on the rear of the symmetrical front portion. At the peak of the center gable, and also at the corners, are ornamental carved boards with pierced work. The front facade is five bays long and is spanned by a one story porch supported by rectangular columns.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

This vernacular style house, built around the turn of the century, is similar in style to several others on Locust Street. Although fairly simple in design, it contributes to the character of Locust Street which possesses many large late 19th and early 20th century houses, some that were once quite stylish.
